

Proposed Provider Rates

To help providers understand how rates are applied, there are two sets of rates — Standard and Enhanced — shown on the following pages. The enhanced reimbursement rate is available to providers that meet two conditions:

1. Pay all education and care entry-level employees at least the basic wage floor according to the provider's level of quality, and
2. Offer care ten hours a day, five days a week

Wrap-Around Care

- How it's paid: Providers receive the wrap-around monthly rate year-round for an eligible child.
- How it works: A single child may average about 2–3 hours of care per day during the school year, and then more hours during summer, holidays, and breaks. The provider is paid the same monthly wrap-around rate all year. The rate isn't tied to the exact number of hours used each month — it is a flat monthly payment intended to balance higher costs during the school year and lower costs during summer months. On average, this amount is higher across the year than current rates.

Full-Time School Age Care

- How it's paid: The full-time school age rate applies only during the months a child is in full-time care (for example, during summer break).
- How it works: This rate is not averaged across the school year because the child is only in care during the summer; the provider receives the full-time monthly amount for those months only.

Part-Time Care

- How it's paid: Providers receive the part-time monthly rate year-round for families approved for part-time schedules.
- How it works: This option is for families who only need care for holidays, breaks, early release days, in-service days, or other limited schedules — but not full-time summer care. The provider is paid the monthly part-time rate regardless of the number of days or hours actually used. Drop-in care can be provided under this rate, including in summer, but it is not considered full-time summer care.

Non-Traditional Hours Differential

Providers may also earn an additional 5%, 10%, or 15% of the applicable standard rate if they provide care during evening, overnight, or weekend hours, depending on the number of non-traditional hours provided weekly.
